Title of Research Study: Morality, Identity, and the Military: Moral Injury and Post-Military Identity Integration

Researcher's Contact Information:

Thomas J. Hodges, 470-418-4810, thodges7@students.kennesaw.edu

You are being asked to take part in a research study. The information in this form will help you decide if you want to be in the study. Please ask the researcher if there is anything that is not clear or if you need more information.

Description of Project

The reason for the research is to learn the extent to which moral injuries affect reintegration. Although there will be no direct benefit to you for taking part in this study, the researcher may learn more about how to help veterans who will have the most difficulty post-service and target assistance appropriately. The findings of this research will be published and presented to people working to improve veteran health and well-being.

Explanation of Procedures

If you agree to participate in this study:

You will complete a survey online which contains a series of questionnaires that ask about your military background, including experiences with moral injury, identity, military service, and other aspects of your psychology, health, social life, and demographics. In total, this will take about 15 minutes.

Participation is voluntary. You can refuse to take part or stop at any time without penalty. There is no consequence for choosing not to participate or for stopping the survey. You will not be required to provide any personal identification information, and the results of your participation will be anonymous.

Risks or Discomforts

Overall, this study has minimal risks. There are no physical, legal, or reputational risks from participating. Participation is anonymous. No personally identifiable information will be collected by the researcher.

There is a possibility of minor psychological discomfort or stress from participating in this research. You will be asked about your experiences in the military and after leaving the military, including incidents which may have caused psychological wounds and extreme stress. However, to minimize this discomfort, you can choose not to participate, and if you do decide to participate, you can pause or stop the survey at any time without any penalty whatsoever. You are not under orders to participate in the study or complete the survey.

Additionally, here are some free services that you can contact at any point:

- a. If you or someone you know is struggling or in crisis, help is available. Call or text 988 or chat 988lifeline.org
- b. SAMHSA's National Helpline is a free, confidential, 24/7, 365-day-a-year treatment referral and information service (in English and Spanish) for individuals and families facing mental and/or substance use disorders. Also, visit the online treatment locator.
 Call: 1-800-662-HELP (4357)

These resources will be provided again at the end of the survey, regardless of how you answer the survey questions.

Benefits

Although there will be no direct benefit to you for taking part in this study, the researcher may learn more about how to help veterans who will have the most difficulty post-service and target assistance appropriately. The findings of this research will be published and presented to people working to improve veteran health and well-being.

Confidentiality

The results of participation will be anonymous, and no personally identifiable information will be collected by the researcher.

The information gained from the study will be shared with other researchers upon request to contribute to scientific transparency, and it may also be used for future studies. In either instance, no additional consent will be sought from you.

Research at Kennesaw State University that involves human participants is carried out under the oversight of an Institutional Review Board. Questions or problems regarding these activities should be addressed to the Institutional Review Board, Kennesaw State University, irb@kennesaw.edu. This email address will be provided to you again at the end of the survey.

PLEASE SAVE A COPY OF THIS FORM FOR YOUR RECORDS

Do you agree to participate according to the terms above?

No, I do not consent to participating in this research.

Yes, I understand the above and consent to participating in this research.

Military Demographics

Thank you for choosing to participate in the study. The information gained will be used to improve veteran health and wellbeing, so please answer honestly.

There will be a series of questionnaires. First, provide some more information about your military service.

Remember, you can also stop the survey at any time.

Encouragement 1

Thank you. Now there is one questionnaire that asks about a challenging experience you may have had while serving in the military.

MIOS Screener

This questionnaire asks about experiences you may have had after a very stressful experience in which:

- 1. You did something (or failed to do something) that went against your moral code or values (e.g., you harmed someone or failed to protect someone from harm), or
- 2. You saw someone (or people) do something or fail to do something that went against your moral code or values (e.g., you witnessed cruel behavior), or
- 3. You were directly affected by someone doing something or failing to do something that went against your moral code or values (e.g., being betrayed by someone you trusted).

Have you had an experience (or experiences) as described above? Yes No This questionnaire asks about experiences you may have had after a very stressful experience in which: 1. You did something (or failed to do something) that went against your moral code or values (e.g., you harmed someone or failed to protect someone from harm), or 2. You saw someone (or people) do something or fail to do something that went against your moral code or values (e.g., you witnessed cruel behavior), or 3. You were directly affected by someone doing something or failing to do something that went against your moral code or values (e.g., being betrayed by someone you trusted). Please answer the following questions while thinking about the worst event that currently bothers you the most. This could be one of the examples above, or some other very stressful experience that went against your core values. The event involved: (select all that apply) A. something I did (or failed to do) B. observing someone else acting (or failing to act) C. being directly impacted by someone else (or people) acting (or failing to act) If you experienced other types of very stressful events, please answer the rest of the questionnaire about the worst and most currently distressing event. For events that had multiple features, which aspect was the worst?

- » A. something I did (or failed to do)
- » B. observing someone else acting (or failing to act)
- » C. being directly impacted by someone else (or people) acting (or failing to act)

Did the event involve actual or threatened death, serious injury, or sexual violence?

In the past month, have you... (select all that apply) had nightmares about the event or thought about the event when you did not want to?

tried hard not to think about the event or went out of your way to avoid situations that reminded you of the event(s)?

been constantly on guard, watchful, or easily startled?

felt numb or detached from people, activities, or your surroundings?

felt guilty or unable to stop blaming yourself or others for the event(s) or any problems the event(s) may have caused?

Outside of the military, I have found people that I connect with through shared interests o	r

Civilians seem to be concerned with trivial matters.
